OOK SPEAKS TO A BOSTON AUDIENCE

He Carried Pemmican, Not Pressed Musk Ox Meat, on Sledges.

ct. 2.—Upon his ar- terday, Dr. Frederick estioned regarding an Harry Whitney, the sportsman, in which that Dr. Cook did not rds with him at Etah, s only. On this point, d yesterday afternoon veral cases with Whit- instruments and also rafts and notes which intelligible to anyone would be of great elf in establishing his o question that such re," said Dr. Cook, ems introduced by Benja- lood, secretary of the ce Society of Boston, id not come as a con- or to criticise or de- or to say other men what he had done," Dr. Cook delivered his lecture in Symphony Hall, before a representative Boston audience.

Dr. Cook took occasion to reply to a recent and pertinent query of George Kennan, in a magazine article in which the writer claimed Dr. Cook could not take sufficient food supplies on two sledges to last eighty-two days. Dr. Cook said in reply:

"Mr. Kennan has the idea that we used pressed musk ox meat as food for dog and man. If we had, his criticism would have been just, for we could not have lived on less than 5,000 pounds of such meat, which it would have been impossible to carry on two sledges. But we did not have musk ox food. We had pemmican and we used one pound per man, per dog, per day. One pound of pemmican is equal to five pounds of fresh meat, so you will see that Mr. Kennan's figures are all right when properly applied."

Last night Dr. Cook included Peary's name in the list of intrepid explorers who had preceded him to the far North.

Bryan Explains Why Objects to Joint Debate

Neb., Oct. 1.—In explaposition on the proposed Senator Bailey of lanta, Ga., William J. ay addressed a letter ll, editor of The Atlanta The letter follows:

last night that I would with you by letter, my lieving a debate fund- a joint meeting was Paso, Tex., I replied at I am trying to aid of a Democratic ma- ext Congress; that to suggested a brief but plank which I ask didates to accept, re- and that, believing a end to turn attention from the issue to individuals, I would not consider the proposition unless it came as a personal request.

"I might add the further reason that a debate between two Democrats would accentuate the tariff differences that have embarrassed our party in Congress, and give the Republican newspapers a chance to dwell upon Democratic dissensions instead of devoting their time to the contest now being waged between the progressive Republicans and the stand-patters.

"A debate might be pleasing to participants and entertaining to the audience, but I think the subject which I am endeavoring to present is worthy of calm and serious consideration.

"Very truly yours,
"WILLIAM J. BRYAN."

SEA ISLAND COTTON IS FIRM AT SAVANNAH.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 2.—The Sea Island market has been firm the past week with a good demand, and prices have been maintained or further advanced. Some business was done in the low grades, mainly of old cotton from last season. The close was firm with factors' tables pretty well swept.

Favorable crop accounts are received from Georgia, most sections reporting a very good yield, although there are indications that the acreage reduction was larger than previously supposed, especially in the eastern counties. Accounts from Florida are greatly unfavorable, the crop having suffered more from vicissitudes of the weather, and a material falling off is usually reported.

There are further complaints of the Savannah trade being handicapped by under-selling in the interior.

Sales for the week, 1,438 bales.

The following prices were based on factors' quotations and are revised weekly on Fridays:

A SIMPLE REMEDY FOR SNAKE BITE.

A valued friend whom this writer met at Leesburg last Saturday gives the following as a sure cure for the bite of any kind of a snake: Take a small handful of common salt, dampen it enough to hold the grains together, clap it to the wound made by the snake and hold it there until the salt turns green; then throw it away and repeat the application with more salt. Continue applying until the salt fails to show any green color, and then the patient is out of danger.

The friend gave several instances of this remedy having been used with speedy and complete success. It is so simple and so easily applied that it ought to be generally known. If anyone has occasion to try it on either human being or dumb animal, he will please report the result to The Herald.—Punta Gorda Herald.

SENATOR JOE BAILEY REPLIES TO COL. BRYAN

Shows That Democrats Were Far In Advance of Republican Insurgents On Tariff Question.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Oct. 2.—United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey, replying to recent tariff declarations of William J. Bryan, took to task Mr. Bryan last night for assertions credited to him in his address at El Paso, a week ago.

Announcing at the outset that his address would be devoid of personal bitterness, Mr. Bailey denied assertions with regard to Mr. Bryan, credited to him in a recent speech at Dallas, and which brought forth a heated retort from Mr. Bryan during his El Paso address.

"Either someone has done him wrong," Mr. Bailey continued, "or he was doing someone a wrong."

In his recent address, Mr. Bailey declared, Mr. Bryan asserted that the only real reform in the tariff attempted was by Republicans, while the Democrats quarreled among themselves for protection for industries in their respective districts. This, Mr. Bailey described as "a terrible indictment of the Democratic party," and would be used by Republican speakers in the next campaign.

The Senator declared the indictment "almost mendacious," and declared with a single exception (Senator McErney of Louisiana) every Democrat in the Senate had voted for lower duties than were proposed in the Republican bill, which Senator Cummins of Iowa, declared, "bad as it was, was better than any bill the Democrats could make."

He maintained that equal distribution of the burdens of the Government was sound Democratic doctrine, and declared he would not vote to take the tax off that which the manufacturer buys while taxing that which the manufacturer sells, but he would vote to reduce that tax to a revenue basis, which he declared to be the doctrine of true Democracy.

In answer to Mr. Bryan's declaration that he was seeking the election of a Democratic Congress, the Senator asked why he came to Texas, where the delegation in Congress is solidly Democratic, and advised him to go to Nebraska and exert himself.

"If he will go there, I will come and help him."

R. Hudson Burr Answers The Miami News-Record

Tallahassee, Fla., Oct. 2, 1909.

Editor Miami News-Record,
Miami, Florida.

Dear Sir—In a recent issue of your paper you publish an article in which you connect me with certain political conferences and deals. I quote in part from your article:

"The recent announcement of Hon. Lewis Zim of St. Augustine that he would be a candidate for Congress in the Second district before the primaries of next year, is the first indication that certain political conferences that have been held this summer are bearing fruit.

"It is evidence of one of the finest political deals that have been entered into by politicians in many a long day, and which if carried out will break up the political calculations of many aspiring politicians.

"The News-Record is in receipt of reliable information, from a source that cannot be doubted, that exposes the inside facts of the proposed deal and that will stir up considerable interest in political circles.

"Reading Mr. Zim's announcement carefully it becomes evident that he does not commit himself to running as a Congressional candidate, but leaves something open for after-consideration.

"Instead of Mr. Zim's finally running for Congressman, he will give place on the ticket to R. Hudson Burr, now Railroad Commissioner, who will try to fill Frank Clark's shoes.

"For his service Mr. Zim will, at the proper time, become a candidate for McLin's job as Commissioner of Agriculture, and be supported by those in the present deal."

I would pay no attention to this contemptible article but for the fact that you undertake to connect me with entering into political deals and in doing so use the language: "In receipt of reliable information, from a source that cannot be doubted, that exposes the inside facts."

In the first place, I wish to say that I know nothing of any conference or conferences being held.

In the second place, I have never been a party to a political deal in my life, nor do I ever expect to be.

In the third place, I am not a candidate for Congress, nor have I been even tentatively.

So far as your statement refers to me, I brand it as an unmitigated and malicious falsehood, manufactured from the "whole cloth" for political purposes.

When I get ready to run for Congress or any other office I shall not hesitate to apprise the people of my State of my intentions without entering into political deals.

R. HUDSON BURR.

Oregon Timber To Be Used In Famous Chinese Temple

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2.—Wanting the biggest timbers available in the world for the rebuilding of a famous temple, the Chinese government has come to Oregon for them. These timbers, or rather trees, for they are great logs with the bark still on, are being loaded on board a steamer at Linnton.

The logs, 195 feet long and 19 feet in circumference at the butt, after reaching China, must be towed 26 miles up the Grand Canal and then transported overland six miles to the temple Ling Yen, the most famous house of worship in all the celestial empire.

The only possible way to get the 24 timbers over the six miles of land is [illegible] to carry them.

TENNESSEE WHISKEY POURED UPON GEORGIA

CHATTANOOGA'S FIRMS AGAIN DOING BUSINESS.

"Dry" Law of Tennessee Is Hit Severe Blow by Court's Recent Decision.

CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 30.—By virtue of a recent ruling by Chancellor T. M. McConnell, Tennessee wholesalers are still shipping liquors to Atlanta and all other cities in other States, although Tennessee went dry July 1.

The Holladay bill, or the State-wide prohibition law, provided "that it shall not hereafter be lawful for any person to sell intoxicating liquors," and when it went into effect all retailers and wholesalers ceased business.

Subsequently a stockholder of J. W. Kelley & Co., a local wholesale liquor house, went into chancery and petitioned the court to construe the Holladay bill as a tippler law, or else to declare it unconstitutional, as being confiscatory in that it rendered worthless the large stocks of dealers on hand.

As a final decree, the chancellor was petitioned to enjoin the State, county and city officials from interfering with complainants in the sale of their goods by wholesale, and to enjoin J. W. Kelly & Co. from discontinuing their interstate shipping business, which the petitioner claimed was about to be done by reason of the Holladay law.

Decision of the Chancellor.

The case was tried September 3, and in rendering his decree Chancellor McConnell said in part:

"It seems absurd to say that this State is helpless to prevent people in other States from shipping their liquors into our State to be used and abused by our people, and at the same time to say that the people in this State cannot ship their liquors, 'legally manufactured,' into other States. If the one is interstate commerce, certainly the other is.

"The State of Tennessee can have no right to prohibit the interstate trade of the complainants, and the attorney-general is without legal authority to prosecute for such sales, because no law is violated thereby.

"The act, so construed, is, in my opinion, constitutional in all its parts: construed to the contrary, that it applies to sale and shipments to other States, it stands directly in the face of the law controlling interstate commerce and is null and void in so far as it attempts to interfere with commerce between the State."

Thriving Interstate Business.

The chancellor thereupon issued the injunction restraining the Kelly company from discontinuing its interstate business, and another injunction restraining the authorities from attempting to prevent such sales. All other firms in Chattanooga seized upon the injunction, and since then the wholesale houses here have been doing a thriving interstate business.

January 1, 1910, a law prohibiting the manufacture of liquor in Tennessee goes into effect. This also will be attacked and the charge will be made that it is confiscatory, and lawyers are already busy preparing for ground on which to ask an injunction to prevent its enforcement.

Distillers Will Again Reopen.

It was learned last night that the Wakeman, the White Oak and the J. W. Kelly & Co's. Deep Spring distilleries would be running at full blast before the end of the present week. Fires were made in Kelly's Deep Spring Distillery at 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and by tonight it will be turning out 280 bushels daily.

The only local distillery which will not open this week is the Chattanooga distillery. Corn whiskey is its chief product, and because of the high prices of the grain the distillery will defer opening for a few weeks. These distilleries would have opened three weeks ago, but their large stock on hand made it unnecessary.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 30.—"I have gone carefully over the situation," said I. L. Farris to a Metropolis reporter of this city yesterday afternoon, "and I have decided to make the race for Congress against Frank Clark.

UP FOR EMBEZZLEMENT.

Two Negroes Were Brought Here Thursday From Newberry.

From Friday's Daily Sun:

Deputy Sheriff Wynne of Newberry brought two more prisoners to the city Thursday, and placed them in jail to await their time to be sent to the mines near Holder.

Matt Millner, a negro who formerly lived in Gainesville and was connected with a pressing club, was sent up by Justice Carter of Newberry on a charge of embezzlement, he having "confiscated" another negroe's gun. He will serve three months.

Nora Gilbert, who absconded with some $30 placed in her hands by her man for safe-keeping, was also given three months upon the same charge.

RESISTED OFFICER.

Bound Over to Next Term of Court by Justice Carter.

From Friday's Daily Sun.

Henry Fraser, a negro of the Newberry section, was brought here Thursday on a charge of resisting an officer, and placed in jail to await the action of circuit court.

Fraser resisted the marshal of Newberry and refused to follow his instructions, and it was necessary for a number of the citizens to assist in order to get him to the jail there. When his case was called he was turned over to the Justice by the mayor.

ALACHUA HAS SOME BAD NEGROES ALSO

ONE OF THE NUMBER BROUGHT HERE THURSDAY.

Constable Spencer Had Trouble With the Man in Bringing Him Here.

From Friday's Daily Sun.

Alachua has some bad negroes also, judging from the "big bully" that was brought down Thursday by Constable Spencer, who had no end of trouble with the man.

Rogers Brown, the negro in question, was very abusing to the officer, and really wanted to scrap with him a number of times—his language at times being almost unbearable, but owing to having the man under his charge he passed his remarks unnoticed.

When the negro arrived here and tried some of his remarks with the officers he was soon shown that such "slack" did not go, and was given to understand that he was to obey, and not the officers.

Justice Sealey sent the man up on a charge of assault, and he will now be required to serve the next few months in the camps near Holder for Rawls & Co. for his conduct; besides, he is entitled to just a few months extra for the manner in which he acted after being turned over to the constable to be brought here.

BEARD QUITS POLITICS.

Spectacular Figure Will Be Seen No More in Legislative Halls.

(Ocala Banner.)

State Senator John S. Beard of Escambia county, one of the most spectacular figures in Florida's political arena in recent years, has quit the game. In The Pensacola Journal he announces that he will never again take an active interest in politics other than the interest which he feels that every citizen should take.

As a candidate for Congress, a delegate to the national convention, a candidate for the United States Senate, and an active participant in every political campaign for past years in this State, Mr. Beard has occupied an important and prominent place in the politics of Florida.

He has attracted national attention by his efforts to pass a disfranchisement measure through the Legislature in violation of the fifteenth amendment in order to have Florida carry up a test case before the supreme court on this amendment. This pet measure was forever laid to rest by the last Legislature, after a magnificent fight on his part. During the last session he attracted State-wide attention by his denunciation of Governor Gilchrist, because of the stand taken by the State's chief executive relative to the Walles-Beard Indian war claims.

In his notice of retirement from active politics he says:

"I have absolutely and permanently retired from politics. While I shall always take the interest in public questions that I think all good citizens should take, I will not again be a candidate for office, nor will I again take an active part in politics.

"I shall, from now on, energetically devote my time and attention exclusively to my profession, and am prepared to practice in all of the State and Federal courts.

"Respectfully,
"JOHN S. BEARD."

MINES ARE OPENING; MERCHANTS HAPPY

MINING TOWN OF NEWBERRY A BUSY PLACE.

Stores Are Well Filled With Choice Goods, and Stocks Are Being Increased.

From Friday's Daily Sun:

A large number of the mines have resumed operations in the Western part of the county, and in all business in that section is looking upward again, which is very gratifying to the merchants.

Particularly is this the condition in Newberry, which is one of the very best towns of the county from a commercial standpoint. Recently, and during the past few years, the place has been visited by disastrous fires, but this did not stop the energetic and hustling people, for they have in a manner completely rebuilt the city, and it is now bigger and better than ever in its history.

The stores to be found at Newberry would compare with those of most any small city of the State, for they are all either brick or concrete, and make a pretty showing, the merchants having added the best fixtures, and they understand how to show their stocks off to advantage.

Newberry's principal support comes from the many phosphate mines, and the fact that the few remaining plants that are yet to resume operation are to open up sometime during the next few weeks has caused the merchants there to buy heavily of fall goods, and the stocks they are displaying are a credit to any stores.

The reporter had occasion to visit that place on business recently for this paper and was surprised at the many nice changes that had been made, and while he did not have the opportunity of calling on all of his old business friends, he saw quite a number whom he gladly remembers and is pleased with the great advancement they have made in a business way.

COE—McCLELLAN.

One of the Most Beautiful Home Weddings Ever Seen in Gainesville.

(By Mrs. S. B. Rogers.)

From Thursday's Daily Sun:

Quite the most beautiful home wedding witnessed in Gainesville for some time was that of Miss Sarah Elizabeth McClellan to Mr. Harry Burton Coe, which took place yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. McClellan.

The entire lower floor of the home was beautifully decorated with evergreens and goldenrod. It was a veritable "Goldenrod Wedding," our beautiful and much-loved national flower being used in great profusion throughout the entire house.

An aisle was formed of magnificent ferns, and garlands of white ribbons, from the arched doorway of the dining room through the back hall to an arch made of goldenrod and evergreens in the center of the reception hall. From the top of this arch swung a beautiful golden marriage bell, under which Miss McClellan and Mr. Coe stood during the ceremony.

Just as the chimes of the clock were striking the hour of two-thirty, Mrs. J. A. Forsythe of Brevard, N. C., began playing the sweetest of all wedding marches—Mendelssohn's Wedding March—to the beautiful strains of which the bridal party entered from the arched doorway of the dining-room, up the aisle of ferns and white ribbons, to the center of the reception hall, stopping under the beautiful wedding arch.

First came the maid of honor, Miss Lucretia Cromley of Philadelphia, Pa., a cousin of the bride, clad in a very elegant dress of yellow satin messaline, trimmed with beautiful hand-made lace, and a hat to match, carrying a lovely bouquet of bridesmaid roses. She marched to her place at the left of the arch. Then came a sweet vision of loveliness, little Miss Virginia Dale, the ring bearer, also a cousin of the bride. She was very sweetly dressed in white batiste, trimmed with val lace, and carried on her left arm a magnificent bouquet of large American Beauty roses. In her right hand she carried a silver basket in which was the handsome wedding ring. She made quite a lovely picture as she took her place at the right of the arch. Immediately afterward the bride entered, leaning upon the arm of her father. Words fail me to describe this sweet vision of girlish loveliness as she came up the aisle gowned in an exquisite costume of pure white duchess satin, princess style, with a long graceful train. Down the front was a tucked panel, almost covered with dainty silver passementerie, and edged with handsome white silk fringe. She wore a large picture hat of white velvet, almost covered with handsome white ostrich plumes, with just a few touches of silver. Her bouquet was of lovely bride's roses, showered with lillies of the valley and tied with white chiffon.

Mr. Coe entered from a door just to the left of the reception hall, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Daniel F. Carlton of Tampa, Fla., and met the bride just under the wedding bell. Facing the large crowd of relatives and friends assembled to witness the ceremony, they were joined in the sacred bonds of matrimony by Rev. S. B. Rogers, president of the Baptist State Convention of Florida, using the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony.

During the ceremony Mrs. Forsythe played in sweet, low tones, "Angel Ceremony." After a beautiful prayer by Rev. Rogers the bridal party marched out of the right entrance to the hall, the same wedding march being repeated. They soon returned to the parlor, the bride attired in a very handsome going-away gown of blue silk, with hat to match, and received hearty good wishes and congratulations from all.

Then came what, to the young folks, was the most exciting event of the afternoon—the cutting of the bride's cake, the bride presenting each guest with a portion. This cake was a delicious creation of the celebrated caterer, L. M. Theobold, of Philadelphia, Pa. It was beautifully iced in a dainty pattern of lilies of the valley, and in the center was a small bouquet of the real flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Coe left at three-thirty, amid showers of rice, for a two-weeks' tour on the East Coast. They will visit many points of interest before returning.

Quite a number of very magnificent presents were received, the collection filling four large tables. Only one of these can be mentioned, because of lack of space. This was a very handsome set of silver knives, forks and spoons, presented by the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity of the University of Florida, of which Mr. Coe has been a most valued member for some time. All members of this fraternity attended the wedding in a body, and were given special seats during the ceremony. The groom's present to the bride was an exquisite Japanese tea service.

These young people have a host of friends who wish for them all the blessings and happiness that it is possible for humanity to receive.

From Friday's Daily Sun:

Moses Pearce, a negro who is charged with the murder of one Chas. O'Neal, another negro, near LaCrosse about two years since, and who was located a few days since by Deputy Sheriff Harris in Georgia, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Stokes at LaCrosse Thursday, State's Attorney Rivers having been sent for to go there to represent the State, while Col. Evans Haile was secured by the defendant.

From the evidence introduced at the hearing it seems that the two men had a row over a negro woman named Hannah, and this was finally the cause of the murder, as the woman is thought to have figured some in the affair from the evidence introduced.

The woman had left her home, taking her gun with her, and O'Neal followed, securing the gun, and as Pearce came up he was run away, but later secured his gun and committed the deed.

It seems that Pearce, since his departure from this State, has again broken into trouble, having committed some misdemeanor in Georgia and it was through this that Deputy Harris was enabled to locate his man, going to that State after him.

Justice Stokes committed Pearce to jail under a $1,000 bond to await the action of the grand jury at the next term of court.

MADE GOOD TIME.

Elmer McCreary "Runs Automobile Some" From Newberry.

Elmer McCreary, in company with F. M. Prewitt, Otis Thompson and W. L. Denham, made a business trip to Newberry on Thursday in the interest of this paper, and during this trip Mr. McCreary made fast time in his automobile from Newberry to Gainesville.

Notwithstanding that the roads are very dry, and in particularly bad condition, the return trip was made from that point in just fifty minutes, including two short stops. The distance covered is just a little over eighteen miles, and about six miles of this road is yet to be paved, the greater part of it being in the heaviest kind of sand, but this he managed to go through on high gear, never once letting up for it.

The trip over there, when Tioga was touched, along with the turpentine camp of the Cummer Lumber Company, was made in one hour, outside of stops, and this is about the best record made by any machine that has so far traveled the Tioga road to Newberry.

Upon returning to Gainesville the occupants of the auto were unanimous in the opinion that "Shoofer" McCreary possessed remarkable presence of mind under the most "flying" circumstances.

SCARLET FEVER RAGES IN PITTSBURG, PA.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 1.—The epidemic of scarlet fever, which has been growing for two weeks, is now causing great worry to the State Board of Health, a representative of which is working to stay the spread of the disease.

The epidemic has spread to Rankin and Swissvale boroughs and grips Braddock and North Braddock.

In Braddock two families lost two children each during the last three days.

Deaths are becoming more frequent every day. Forty-one cases are quarantined. Foreigners evade quarantine, thus carrying the disease to American families. The schools were fumigated today, and will likely be closed next week.

"Congressman Farris?" Wouldn't that jar you?

He who looks for short cuts to prosperity is likely to lose his way.

Standard Oil is so alarmed about something that its stocks have fallen up to 712.

Commander Peary's attitude toward Dr. Cook shows that a great explorer may be a very small man.

A headline says John D. objects to "all games of chance." But very few of us can, like Mr. Rockefeller, nail down a sure thing every time.

Incredible as it may appear, Justice, Liberty and Truth are now universally admired in New York. But they are only French warships, and that makes a difference.

The British Premier wants to build roads on which there shall be no speed limit for motorists. Slow old England; we have such roads all over this country today.

There are now four candidates for Congress from this district, Alachua, Dade, Duval and St. Johns counties furnishing them. The race will be between Alachua and St. Johns county candidates.

The entire tax rolls of Jacksonville and Starke were published in the papers of those cities by order of the city council. This was done in order to let each property owner know the amount of his assessment in proportion to that of his neighbor. The example should be followed in other cities.

The surgeon of the Peary party has discovered a use for the polar regions, as an ideal place to make a fight successful against tuberculosis. "Summer and spring," he says, "are mild and pleasant places even within the bounds of the Arctic zone, the atmospheric conditions and constant sun making it practically impossible for the tuberculosis germ to exist."

There ought to be some way of putting a stop to the shipment and sale of green Florida oranges. The Gainesville fruit dealers are now displaying this green fruit and offering it for sale, but a person with common sense is not likely to "bite" at the price of "three for a nickel." It was hoped that the new Citrus Fruit Exchange would be able to stop the shipping of green oranges and grapefruit this season, but it has not had the desired effect in this section.

So the Hon. Ion L. Farris, Speaker of the Florida House of Representatives, has decided to "go out after Frank Clark." Mr. Farris made a spectacle of himself by being on both sides of the Jacksonville charter bill at the last session of the Legislature, and is about the weakest man today, politically, in Duval county, neither faction having any confidence in him politically. If he thinks the people of this district will entrust their interests in Congress to such a political acrobat he will find that he is badly mistaken when the votes are counted.

GOOD ROADS.

That the farmers of Hamilton county are alive to the benefits to be derived from the construction of hard roads is evidenced by the following from The Jasper News:

"The farmers of this county are becoming interested in good roads. As evidence of this statement, at the last session of our board of county commissioners a proposition was presented to that body, signed by fifty farmers residing north and east of Jasper, that if the commissioners would furnish the rock they would meet every Saturday and haul it out on the roads.

"This means fifty wagons hauling rock every Saturday and this would soon make good roads for several miles east from Jasper. It would do away with those terrible sand beds which extend two or three miles from town, and the material being rock it would be a permanent work.

"This rock, which is just such as the streets of Live Oak, Newberry and other towns are paved with, can be purchased for 65 or 75 cents a ton delivered here in Jasper. Thus it will be seen that these farmers propose to pay with their teams and labor about three-fourths of the expense of building these good roads.

"This proposition our county commissioners will accept beyond the shadow of a doubt. In fact, they cannot afford to do otherwise, because it is a duty they owe to these taxpayers who so nobly propose to bear by far the larger part of the expense.

"But our county commissioners need no urging, nor argument along this line, for their actions in the past have demonstrated their public spirit and their desire to have good roads built.

"We complain of our taxes, and justly, too, for they are higher than in the days of carpet-bag reconstruction, but burdensome as our State and county taxes are they are not to be compared to the tax levied by bad roads. Where the Saul of State and county taxation has slain its thousands, the David of bad roads has slain its ten thousands.

"These public spirited farmers, who thus propose to donate their labor, are to be commended; their noble example emulated, and their proposition accepted."

THEY HAD A "CINCH."

How did Adam and Eve live at the North Pole, with only fig leaves for adornment?—Apalachicola Times.

How did they live? Why, that's a "cinch." Of want they never felt the pinch. They dwelt in airy, easy style and loved each other all the while. No thoughts sartorial could vex; no vise-like collars chafed their necks. Eve's plenteous hair concealed no "rat," she never had to buy a hat. For her no dress-forms, pads or stays, no beauty-killing fashion-craze. In tripping o'er the rain-wet dirt, she never had to raise her skirt, or bear the jibes of staring beaus because she had on common hose. No envious ones were there to smile, and say her clothes were "out of style." No matter where she chanced to be, no woman better-dressed than she!

And Adam—O the lucky "guy"—no hats, no shoes, no ties to buy; no "Wonder what I'll wear today?" No pesky laundry bills to pay. No ripping seams to make him sore, no collar-buttons on the floor. No coats to hang, no pants to press, no waiting for his wife to dress. On waking, not a "rag" to don; and, when the golden day was gone, no tiresome togs to lay away; just shake a leaf and—"to the bay."—Tampa Tribune.

Very few will disagree with J. J. Hill about the evil effects of the continuous drift from the country to the city. It was hoped that the improved social conditions now enjoyed on the farm and the higher prices obtained for farm produce would turn the tide, or at the very least check the flow, but the hope has not been realized. And yet ultimately it will come to that. Smaller farms, extensive and more intelligent farming with corresponding increased yield per acre, better roads and further improvements in rural social life will, with the growing acuteness of the struggle for existence in the cities, lead to a better balancing of rural and urban population.

The machinery for Fernandina's new factory for dissicating and evaporating fruit products has arrived and is being put up. This is an entirely new industry for the South.

TWO MEN COMPARED.

Two men of national fame have just died. One devoted his life to the accumulation of wealth, the other to the service of his fellow men. At the bedside of one the nation watched with anxiety and also with admiration for the brave struggle he made for life. At the bedside of the other the nation watched with equal anxiety and admiration, and also with an affection that was lacking with the first.

The reason for this difference is obvious to all. That Harriman in some ways benefited his fellow men all will admit, but his prime purpose was to serve himself. Governor Johnson consecrated his life to his fellows. How fully that was recognized is seen in the three-fold election to the highest office in a State in which the majority of the people belong to a party opposed to the one in which he was the most distinguished leader.

Governor Johnson belonged to that sturdy, virile, Scandinavian stock whose industry, pluck, intelligence, perseverance and sterling moral qualities have done so much to build up this country along material and moral lines. In the indomitable superiority to circumstances he constantly showed, and in his robust character and marked ability he was a conspicuous example of the racial truth we have stated.

The country is the poorer by reason of his death and all parties and all classes recognize the good he has done, revere his memory and sincerely sympathize with his family in their great sorrow.

Governor Hughes of New York and Governor Fort of New Jersey are fighting along similar lines in their effort for political reform, particularly in relation to primaries. The principle of direct primaries for which they stand is in marked contrast with that which has characterized the Western movement. In the West parties have been destroyed and political anarchy has resulted, in which individualism has taken the place of party organization, and in which bosses maintain a supremacy as menacing to popular rights as that of machine bosses, by reason of financial resources, by virtue of personal magnetism, or by a cleverness in political demagoguery which sways public opinion. Governor Hughes works along different lines. He believes in organized effort. He believes in party unity, in party solidarity of the right sort. He applies to politics the truth that in union there is strength, and believes that only in well ordered, carefully formulated and defined party policy can sound public sentiment achieve its purpose and true democracy find its best expression in representative government.

There is no inhumanity so cruel as the torturing of dumb animals, and our officers should see to it that section 3295 of the General Statutes of Florida is strictly enforced against all violators. It is as follows: "Whoever unnecessarily overloads, overdrives, tortures, torments, deprives of necessary sustenance or shelter, or unnecessarily or cruelly beats, mutilates or kills any animal, or causes the same to be done, or carries in or upon any vehicle, or otherwise, any animal in a cruel or inhuman manner, shall be punished by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by fine not exceeding one hundred dollars."

Pleas for the poor lemon growers of California during the tariff discussion in Congress resulted in an increase of the duty on that fruit of 50 cents a hundred pounds, this being necessary to equalize the cost of production at home and abroad, including delivery at the Atlantic seaboard, and a fair profit for the American producer. Now it appears that the poor lemon grower is to get but 35 cents of the increased protection, the transcontinental railroads having raised the freight rate for lemons 15 cents a hundred pounds.

THE SUN'S CORN CONTEST.

With a view to showing what is done in Alachua county in the way of producing corn, The Sun offers the following cash prizes for the best corn brought into the office before October 15th, 1909:

|---|---|
| Best stalk of corn, showing two or more well-developed ears.. | $3.00 |
| Second best stalk of corn..... | 1.50 |
| Best ear of corn ..... | 2.00 |
| Second best ear of corn..... | 1.00 |

The corn entered must be grown in Alachua county; must be delivered at The Sun office, all charges paid, before October 15th, and be accompanied by the grower's name, address, number of acres grown, average yield per acre, variety, and a short description of the method of cultivation.

The exhibits will be placed in some public place and left on exhibit for a few days at the close of the contest.

The awards will be made by competent farmers, who have not entered any corn in the contest.

The object in offering these prizes is to stimulate our farmers to better things in the way of crops for home use and to ship.

The American Prison Congress, which was recently in session at Seattle, took up the question of paroling life prisoners, and the discussion, following the favorable report of a committee appointed last year to deal with the subject, indicated that there is, among penological authorities, an increasing willingness to extend the parole system. Canada is applying it generously, an interview with the Dominion parole officer showing that about 400 convicts are now being released each year on ticket-of-leave. During the past ten years, 2,515 prisoners have been so released, and it appears that less than 5 per cent of the licenses have been cancelled for non compliance with the terms of the parole and less than 2 per cent have been forfeited by a subsequent conviction for crime. There is no very convincing evidence as to the permanent effect of this leniency; the system has been in operation hardly long enough to yield statistics; but Canada's records seem to show that the per centage of prisoners who return to the penitentiaries after having served out their sentence is larger than that of those who come back after having enjoyed parole privilege.

"The average laborer today is living better than Queen Elizabeth did in her time," is the astounding remark credited to James Wilson, Secretary of Agriculture. Let's see. Queen Elizabeth's wardrobe was replenished from the richest goods of the Orient. She lived amid luxury. Her table was famed for its lavishness and its prodigality. She may not have had all the "modern conveniences" in her palace, but she possessed material comforts in the greatest abundance. If Mr. Wilson had said that the average laborer of today lives better than the laborer of Queen Elizabeth's time, it would have been nearer the truth, although no more to the point in the argument he was attempting to make.

Dr. Cook is passing through a difficult ordeal. He has been assailed by a man whose recognized achievements as an explorer lent peculiar force to his formidable impeachment of the Doctor's veracity. But even the most virulent of Peary's partisans must now confess that through all the irritations of an exasperating controversy Dr. Cook has maintained a coolness and restraint that compel respect and encourage belief. We are aware that this dispute over priority in Arctic discovery has only just begun. The real fight will develop when Dr. Cook submits his scientific data to the inspection of men qualified to pass upon their value.

Material for the erection of a handsome monument on the famous Olustee battlefield is being gathered and work will soon begin.

THE NAVAL PARADE WAS A BIG SUCCESS

PEARY ON THE "ROOSEVELT" WAS DISTINCTIVE FEATURE.

Over One Thousand Vessels Participate in Spectacular Event of Fulton-Hudson Celebration.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—With Commander Robert E. Peary, and every member of the crew that accompanied him on his quest of the North Pole aboard, the steamer "Roosevelt," just back from the region of eternal ice, was the salient feature of the naval parade today up the lower Hudson to meet the Half Moon and Clermont at Newburg. This naval parade was the principal incident of the celebration today, so far as Manhattan was concerned.

In Brooklyn the historical pageant of last Tuesday was repeated, and there was everywhere the usual expectation of the aeroplane flights, but a great majority of sightseers flocked to the banks of the Hudson. There they saw a great fleet of excursion steamers, steam tugs, yachts, motor boats and other craft, which rendezvoused between Fort Lee and Spuyten Duyvil.

The "Roosevelt's" progress from quarantine to her dock at the foot of West Forty-second street, was marked by a continuous blast of whistles, and when she came off Riverside drive where the crowd was gathered and started on her way up the river the salute was taken up by thousands of cheering voices.

A Spectacular Event.

The naval pageant in connection with the Hudson-Fulton celebration was the greatest in the history of the United States, and perhaps the greatest the world has ever seen. Over 1,000 vessels, including cruisers, battleships, steamboats, private yachts, tugs, steam lighters and motor boats participated in the event.

The vessels were divided into eight squadrons, each commanded by a flag officer. The squadrons were then divided into divisions of not fewer than four vessels, all in line except the United States naval ships being under command of Captain Jacob W. Miller, chairman of the Hudson-Fulton's commission for the naval parade.

There were eighty warships in line, fifty-three being detailed from the Atlantic squadron of the United States navy.

Foreign nations represented were Germany, England, Italy, France, Mexico, Argentine, Chili and Peru. River towns along the Hudson devoted the day to exercises along the river side, fetes and champetres wherever the nature of the water front made such a program possible. At Newburg the Half Moon and Clermont were turned over to an up-river squadron, which will take the replicas on to Albany for next week's celebration

Americans are hard hitters in politics, but there is an underlying spirit of fairness which, although it may be temporarily hidden in the heat of conflict, shows itself strongly on almost every occasion. This is seen just now in special manner in the courteous and welcome extended to President Taft in the visit he is making different parts of the country. Many may differ from him on his expressed views on certain questions, but for the man himself and as chief magistrate of the nation there is nothing but the most kindly feeling, and people of all parties unite in extending to him a characteristic American welcome and hospitality.

The chauffeurs have organized in Washington, and hereafter no automobile wrecks will be recognized that do not bear the union label.

WILBUR WRIGHT AND GLENN CURTISS FLY

Wright Made Three Successful Flights, While Curtiss Made Only One Successful Ascent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Wilbur Wright circled the great Statue of Liberty at the entrance of New York harbor in his aeroplane yesterday, while in the upper part of the city two dirigible baloons ingloriously failed in their task. This, the first day of the events of the Hudson-Fulton celebration, was a victory for the heavier-than-air machines.

Both Wright and Glenn H. Curtiss soared successfully from the aeroplane of Governor's Island in their motor-propelled bi-planes; both great dirigibles, manned, respectively, by Capt. Thomas Baldwin and George L. Tomlinson, and entered in The New York World's $10,000 New York to Albany race. were forced to descend because of mechanical difficulties before they were well under way.

Wilbur Wright made three sensational flights, and Curtiss made one brief though successful test spin of thirty seconds' duration. Baldwin with his dirigible landed in the Hudson river less than an hour after the start, while Tomlinson after remaining in the air from 11:36 a. m. until 1:36 p. m., came to earth near White Plains, N. Y., twenty-two miles from the starting point. Neither of the dirigible pilots were injured, nor was either craft seriously damaged.

Curtiss was the first to leave the ground. At 7 o'clock in the morning he made a brief flight.

Wright Made Three Flights.

Two hours later Wright made his first ascent, encircling Governor's Island, and remaining in the air for seven minutes. After an hour's rest Wright again went aloft, this time sailing in the air for six minutes and thirty seconds, attaining a speed estimated at fifty miles an hour, and in a glorious sweep out over the bay, passing entirely around the great statue of liberty on Bedloe's island. Not content with these spectacular feats, Wright made a third flight at 5:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon before a crowd of 2,000 persons. Tugs, excursion boats and various craft had gathered on both sides of the hill, which is being used as the aviation field, and they tooted their whistles noisily as his machine rose from the ground for the last flight of the day. He did not attempt to fly over the water nor did he go to any great height, but executed two complete circles in the air, then made an excellent landing, while the crowd, including his rival, Curtiss, commented on the ease with which he manipulated his craft.

In all three of his flights yesterday the Wright machine showed greater speed than that of Curtiss, but the Curtiss flier seemed to keep its equilibruim better and remained on an even keel. Wright, in fact, met with one slight mishap in his first flight, when a wing tip struck the ground on landing and considerably jarred his machine.

The start of the dirigible baloon race to Albany was considerable of a fiasco, but it is announced that the baloons will be made ready for another attempt at the first opportunity.

Tomlinson was the first to start on the trip, which he hoped would end at Albany. He got away at 11:36, and headed north on the easterly side of the Hudson.

Baldwin arose at 11:52, shot out directly over the middle of the Hudson, and began traveling toward the State capital. In a few moments he was lost to view, butfll a puff of wind snapped one of his rudder ropes, and he was forced to descend. The baloon came easily. Capt Baldwin threw out dragnets, and sailors from the battleships Rhode Island, New Jersey and North Carolina, who saw his plight, swarmed to his rescue in launches. Baldwin swung himself into a boat without getting wet.

Meantime Tomlinson, at a height of about 300 feet, had been going northward overland, when both his gasoline and oil tanks began leaking. Fearing an explosion, he was forced to come to earth on a country estate near White Plains. This feat he accomplished without mishap.

How Sheriff Hayes Lewis Dodged a Very Angry Mob

PENSACOLA, Sept. 30.—With three negroes in his custody whom a mob in his home county endeavored to get to lynch, Sheriff Hayes Lewis of Marianna, in Jackson county, arrived here at a late hour Tuesday night and locked the men in the county jail. They are Cary and Robert Gray and Davis, all charged with the murder of a planter of Jackson county, named John Dukes. The negroes were captured by the sheriff late Monday afternoon and placed in the county jail at Marianna. Late in the night a band of countrymen reached the city and made a demand for the three negroes, bringing ropes with which to hang them up, as well as railroad irons with which to batter down the prison gates and doors if admittance was refused. The jailer, who was a negro, quietly secreted the negroes under some old cots in a corner, then told the mob that the sheriff had heard that they were coming and had gone to Pensacola with the men. This they did not believe, whereupon the jailer handed them the keys and told them to make a search, and if they wanted him to he would call out all prisoners into the corridor. They were fooled by his willingness and while they went into the jail no systematic search was made, and the negroes were saved. Tuesday, however, it became known that the negroes were still in jail and talk immediately started of lynching. The sheriff decided best not to attempt another ruse, so slipped the men from jail and took the first train for Pensacola. He made arrangements yesterday morning for the negroes to remain here until the next term of court at Marianna, which will be in November. The murder of Dukes was a very cold-blooded one, it is said, and was committed while the negroes were on a spree.

Decision Means Millions For G. B. Selden of Boston

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 1.—The decision in the suit brought by the holders of the rights under G. B. Selden's patent is sweeping. It means that every gasoline-propelled internal combustion vehicle in the United States must pay royalty to him—1 per cent of the value of machine, which means many millions for his invention. Celebrations on Selden's 60th birthday is a rare celebration of the idea that came to him in 1872, when he was working on a road roller bought by the city. He thought about the problem of locomotion, and finally decided that the principle of railroad locomotion could be applied to other vehicles, and in 1879 he had a "road engine" run by an internal combustion engine.

DICKINSON REPLIES TO GRANT'S CRITICS

ARMY AS SUCH NOT TAKING SIDES ON PROHIBITION.

Individuals Belonging to Army Have Privilege of Voting as They Please.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—No criticism is made by Secretary of War Dickinson in the action of General Grant in taking part in a temperance and law enforcement parade in Chicago in his uniform as a major-general of the United States army. As to such movement, Secretary Dickinson says each soldier and officer has a right to determine for himself.

Secretary Dickinson in replying to a letter from W. R. Michaelis of Chicago, received yesterday, criticising General Grant's right to appear in uniform at the head of a so-called temperance parade in that city last Saturday, says:

"I do not know the facts, but I have seen it stated that it was not a prohibition parade, but a temperance and law enforcement parade. You state that it has been rumored that the Federal Government and the army in general have taken sides with the prohibition movement. If the Federal Government has in any way taken part in any such movement, I do not know it. What individual members of the army may feel about such movements, I do not know. Each soldier and officer of the army has a right to determine that for himself. I do know, however, and state that the army as an organization has taken no side, and will have no right to take sides, either for or against the prohibition movement.

"General Grant participated in the parade as an individual, and not as in any way representing the army or the War Department."

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

From Sunday's Daily Sun:

J. G. Beville, the trucker of Arredondo, was in the city yesterday. He says that the truckers are busy but are experiencing a rather hard time owing to the dry weather, which makes it bad on growing and transplanting of young vegetables.

Superintendent A. L. Glass of the T. & J. railway has just received for his own private use a handsome new motor car. The machine will be used by him on his official visits to different points on the road and will prove a great convenience in the transaction of his business.

A card received by friends from Miss Addie Goode, who is spending some time with a party of friends in the West, states that she is having a most delightful time. Her last address was at Oakland, Cal., but she stated the next stopping place would be San Francisco.

G. W. Powers, one of the planters of the Wilcox section, was a visitor to the city Saturday and made a pleasant call at this office. He states that much improvement is noticeable in his section and that considerable building is being done to accommodate the increasing population.

Attention is directed to the announcement of the fall and winter opening of the New Hat Shop, Mrs. M. J. Patterson proprietress, which is located just opposite the Brown House. They ask an examination of their styles and prices, which they claim cannot be equaled elsewhere.

Lost—Ladies' solid gold hunting-case, "O"-size Waltham movement watch, with small scratched number in back case X 7179; on fob was a Randolph-Macon pin and half-dollar charm. May have been lost on Gainesville-Rochelle-Micanopy road. Reward for return of same to this office.

OPENING PROVED BIG SUCCESS.

Mrs. McCormick's Parlors Thronged With Ladies Thursday.

From Friday's Daily Sun.

From the opening hour at 10:30 on Thursday morning until late in the evening the handsome millinery parlors of Mrs. F. T. McCormick were thronged with the ladies of Gainesville who had called to view the styles and fashions that were temptingly and artistically displayed by the proprietress and her assistants.

The opening was highly successful to Mrs. McCormick from a financial standpoint, for all during the day a number of reservations were being made, and she states that it was one of the very best day's sales she has ever had on a similar occasion.

Commencing today new and novel patterns will be displayed to take the place of those sold on yesterday, and as her stock is almost unlimited she states that she will be able to replace the most particular and smart styles from time to time.

New Department Added.

During her last visit to the markets she decided to add another feature to her already increasing business, and now has in stock, or can make to your order, all articles wanted in human hair, such as braids, switches, etc., and solicits your patronage in this line.

Never before in the history of the city has such a large and most select stock of headwear been shown to the ladies, and she states that she can personally vouch for their exclusiveness and guarantees them to in every manner be the most particular and up-to-date ideas now in vogue in the principal shops of the country. She has made a particular study of the subject, and knows whereof she speaks.

Let a want ad. negotiate a trade for you—of something you don't need for something you do.

Cobb, the Dixie Demon, Leads All the Batters

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Ty Cobb, the Dixie Demon, now has the highest batting average of any major league player, his credit being .364. The speedy Detroiter has a ten-point lead in the records over Eddie Collins of the Athletics, who has played in six less games than his Tiger rival and made twelve less hits. Cobb never has had such a good season with the stick or on the paths.

Hans Wagner, who leads the National League hitsmiths, has not made any such sensational record as Cobb this year. Hammering Hans is walloping the sphere at a .338 clip, and has made 159 safeties. The runner-up in the Heydler organization is Fred Jacklitsch of the Phillies, who, however, has played in only nineteen games.

There are more .300 stickers in the National League at present than there are in the American League, the senior organization having eight such batsmen to the younger body's six. These are the men who now are members of the Society of the Three Hundred: Cobb, Collins, Jajoie, Slattery, Crawford and Carrigan, in the American League, and Wagner, Jacklitsch, Hyatt, Mitchell, Seymour, Hoblitzel, Bransfield and Bridwell in the National League. The Hilltoppers' leading batsman being Frank Laporte and the Washington Parkers' top-notch sticker John Hummel. Their respective records are .288 and 289.

Three major league players have scored more than 100 runs. These athletes are Tommy Leach, who has journeyed from plate to plate 115 times; Ty Cobb, who has made 106 round trips, and Ownie Bush, who has registered on 104 occasions.

Cobb and Wagner are the pace-setters in long hitting in the two big leagues. Cobb and Bescher excel in larcenies and Bush and Sheckard show the way in sacrificing.

Cobb is the premier smiter of home runs, having made nine. There is a four-handed scrap for supremacy in four baggers in the National League, Larry Doyle, Jack Murray, Tommy Leach and Beals Becker each having earned pairs of shoes six times.

In the National League Pittsburg is the best batting team and Chicago the leader in defense work. In the American League Detroit has the most powerful attack and the Chicago White Sox, as usual, are the best fielders.

Theodore Price Invents Practical Cotton Picker

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 1.—To the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers Theodore H. Price announces the invention of a cotton picker. If it is, as alleged, thoroughly practical, it is an invention of incalculable value.

In 51 years covered by the seasons of 1803-59 the American cotton crop increased 27.48 per cent. In the last 49 years the increase has been about 285 per cent. The increase in production with slave labor was nearly ten times as great as the increase with free labor. The emancipated negro does not work well in the cotton field. Decrease in the efficiency of his labor has been so marked that importation of Southern European laborers to replace him is being tried. The mechanical picker seems likely to solve a bothersome labor problem. If it meets requirements, we may expect tremendous expansion in American cotton production. The soil is ready, but labor has been lacking.

CORRESPONDENCE COURSES IN AGRICULTURE FOR FARMERS AND TEACHERS

The University of Florida offers free correspondence courses in agriculture for all white citizens of the State. The authorities of the University, through the extension movement and extension teaching, are endeavoring to extend the usefulness of the institution to as nearly every citizen of the State as possible. They hope, by carrying agricultural information to the doors of all citizens who will avail themselves of the opportunity thus offered, to make the agricultural industry more remunerative, and thereby, in time, greatly improve rural conditions and rural welfare throughout the State. This, in turn, will react beneficially upon all other industries.

The main purpose in view in offering free correspondence courses in agriculture, is to reach a large and deserving body of citizens who may desire to increase their technical knowledge and practical efficiency, and yet, for various reasons, have heretofore been unable to do so

The courses offered are suited to the needs of the following classes:

1. Teachers and prospective teachers.
2. Farmers and prospective farmers.
3. Farmers' wives, sons and daughters.
4. Others who may be interested and care to pursue a course.

The following courses are offered, beginning November 1, 1909, and ending June 1, 1910:

1. General Course in Elementary Agriculture.
2. Soils.
3. Tillage.
4. Drainage and Irrigation.
5. Manures and Fertilizers.
6. Field Crops.
7. Types and Breeds of Live Stock.
8. Dairy Husbandry.
9. Poultry Husbandry.
10. Animal Breeding.
11. Feeds and Feeding.
12. Citrus Fruits and Citrus Culture.

The general course in elementary agriculture is intended to prepare teachers for examinations for certificates, and to fit them to effectively give instruction in nature study and agriculture in the public schools of the State. However, anyone may take the general course in elementary agriculture. Only one course should be pursued at a time.

There is no age limit, and no entrance examinations are required. Anyone may register for a course, and may pursue it as rapidly or as slowly as his or her time and ability will permit.

The instruction in all courses is free. Each individual registering for a course will be required to pay the necessary postage and provide a textbook.

Those who wish further information, or who desire to register for one of the courses, should communicate with J. J. Vernon, Department of Agriculture, Gainesville, Florida.

Death of Mrs. Fix.

H. A. Fisher has received the sad intelligence of the death of Mrs. Susan Fix, the aged mother of his wife, which occurred at her home in Boswell, Ind., a day or two since. Mrs. Fisher was summoned to Boswell several months ago on account of failing health of her mother, and finding her condition quite critical, decided to remain until the end came. While the demise of the lady was not unexpected, it was a great shock to her relatives and friends, and Mrs. Fisher's many friends here will extend sympathy in her hour of trouble.

For Chapped Skin.

Chapped skin whether on the hands or face may be cured in one night by applying Chamberlain's Salve. It is also unequaled for sore nipples, burns and scalds. For sale by all druggists.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

The cause of all skin diseases can be traced to some humor or acid in the blood; the cuticle is always healthy where the circulation is free from impurities. When the blood is infected with acrid or unhealthy matter it cannot perform its natural work of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its normal softness, pliability and healthfulness. Instead it irritates and inflames the delicate fibres and tissues around the pores and glands and produces some of the many forms of skin disease. The itching and stinging so often accompanying skin affections are produced by the deposit from the blood of the acrid humors with which it is filled, into the sensitive membranous flesh lying just beneath the outer covering, and surrounding the countless nerves, pores and glands. This explains why scratching the outer skin affords no relief from the itching and burning. S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every character by purifying the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors or acids which are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acrid blood, and permanently cures every variety of skin affection. Local applications can only soothe; they never cure because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. goes right into the circulation, reaches the trouble and cures it by removing the cause. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

CROP ABOUT GATHERED.

All of the Larger Growers Have Completed Picking Cotton.

From T. H. Cato of Alachua the reporter learned Thursday that about all of the farmers in that section had completed gathering their cotton and the fields will now be turned into pasturage.

Especially is this the case with the larger growers, remarked Mr. Cato, and they have in very few instances made one-third of what they should have gathered on the acreage that was planted. Although prices have been fairly good, it is known that in some cases the people have not averaged a bale of cotton to fifteen acres of land planted, and this state of affairs has truly been very discouraging to the grower.

The highest prices received in the seed at Alachua was 6½ cents last week, but it has now dropped back to 6 cents.

A Shaking Up

May all be very well so far as the trusts are concerned, but not when it comes to chills and fever and malaria. Quit the quinine and take a real cure—Ballard's Herbine. Contains no harmful drugs and is as certain as taxes. If it doesn't cure, you get your money back. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

The Mississippi-Atlantic Inland Waterway Association will meet in Jacksonville on November 15th and 16th. Some noted speakers from all over the country are to be present and will deliver addresses.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has become famous for its cures of coughs, colds, croup and influenza. Try it when in need. It contains no harmful substance and always gives prompt relief. Sold by all druggists.

"LIGHTNING EXPRESS."

Old-Time Darkey Known All Over the Country Visits Gainesville.

From Friday's Daily Sun.

The familiar figure of the old colored man known all over Florida for the past forty-five years as "Lightning Express" was seen on the streets of Gainesville Thursday. He has probably covered a greater number of miles afoot during his lifetime than any human being, as the writer has known him for thirty-three years and has never known him to ride, always going from place to place afoot. "Lightning Express" was very noncommunicative when we first knew him at Cedar Key, but he now seems to enjoy conversing with people and relating his experiences of the past. It is said of him that when there was no railroad between Palatka and Jacksonville he ran a race with one of the Hart Line steamers from the Gem City to the metropolis, in which he came out victorious by several minutes. He still carries a heavy stick and bag, as he did when we first knew him, and has the same swinging gait when he walks. Although he now claims to be 93 years old he does not look much older than he did thirty-three years ago.

It is in time of sudden mishap or accident that Chamberlain's Liniment can be relied upon to take the place of the family doctor, who cannot always be found at the moment. Then it is that Chamberlain's Liniment is never found wanting. In case of sprains, cuts, wounds and bruises Chamberlain's Liniment takes out the soreness and drives away the pain. Sold by all druggists.

The great Barnum and Bailey circus is coming to Florida. It is billed for a performance in Pensacola early in November.

THREE JAIL BIRDS TAKE FRENCH LEAVE

NASSAU COUNTY PRISONERS OVERPOWER JAILER.

One of Them Is Charged With Murdering White Man—All Are Negroes.

FERNANDINA, Oct. 1.—A most daring jail delivery was effected at the county jail here yesterday when Jim Sanderson, Jim Smith and Bergin Royles, all negroes, overpowered Jailer Tomlinson and escaped to parts unknown. The greatest of excitement prevailed and the surrounding country is being scoured by officers and citizens.

During the morning Jailer Tomlinson went into the jail for the purpose of cleaning it and making his usual inspection, and when he opened the door leading to one of the steel cages he was suddenly overpowered by the three prisoners mentioned above. He was roughly handled and for a while it looked as though he would be murdered. He was forced to plead for his life and probably would have been killed had he not delivered the keys to the angry prisoners.

The three negroes then offered liberty to three other men confined in the jail but the offer was not accepted. Sanderson, Smith and Royles then left the jail and secured a good start before the jailer could give the alarm.

Royles is the most desperate of the prisoners, he having been locked up only a short while ago for the murder of a white man in Nassau county. A description of the men has been sent to all parts of the State and Georgia and it is hoped that the criminals will be captured shortly.

WOMAN'S MUTILATED BODY DISCOVERED

CORONER'S JURY RECOMMENDED ARREST OF HUSBAND.

Was Seen With His Wife Tuesday Afternoon In Woods Near Where Body Was Found.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Oct. 1.—The discovery early yesterday of the mutilated body of Mrs. Martha Foster, covered beneath a mound of brush and pine needles in strip of woodland north of Beaumont Mill village, near this city, has revealed a revolting murder, and left the police authorities at sea. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict last night to the effect that the woman came to her death by being beaten in the head with some blunt instrument, and recommended that Doc Foster, her husband, be held until the circumstances surrounding the case are further developed. He is in jail.

Foster was seen with his wife Tuesday afternoon in the woods, where her body was found. He denies any knowledge of the crime, and stated last night that he last saw his wife Tuesday evening in a hack with an unknown white man and negro driver. She told him then she was going to a neighboring village to see some friends.

Mrs. Foster had been in the State asylum for the insane for six months, and returned only two weeks ago. She has six children, some of whom are in an orphanage in Greenville.

The police believe the murder was not committed in the woods, but that the body had been carried there. Physicians say the woman had not been dead more than forty eight hours. The skull was crushed in several places, one arm was broken and the fingers badly cut.

Foster at one time was a successful farmer. He is 60 years of age. When arrested yesterday he was seated in his room reading the Bible, and expressed little surprise when told that his wife had been murdered. He was taken to where the body lay in the woods, and after viewing it in an indifferent fashion, said:

"Yes, that's her."

Dr. Gresham, a prominent analytical chemist of Florida, with headquarters in Jacksonville, has discovered that the wild coffee bean can be put to practical use. A very valuable dye, or mordant, can be made from the beans. The price offered for them ranges from $5 to $8 per ton.
